1 ON 1 ADVISING

One-on-one advising helps students crystallize their interests and guides them on how to structure the search while helping to identify and develop the tools to effectively target prospects whether they are an internship, job, residency, fellowship, graduate school or other professional opportunity.

QUICK ADVISING

This 15-minute check-in is ideal for a quick review of a resume, edits to a cover letter, portfolio review or trouble-shoot a follow-up strategy with a prospect. Available to those who have had a 1:1 appointment previously. Sign up sheets are posted a few days before the Saturday morning sessions, outside 005 Steinberg.

CAREER CENTER WORKSHOPS

There will be a host of programs dedicated to professional development throughout the school year that are designed to provide a foundation in career development. These include Road Shows, resume and cover letter workshops, mock interview practice, and portfolio development. There are also events that are focused around networking, digital portfolio presence, and interview development. Many of the workshops have local alumni and firms as participants. The main office of the Career Center, located in the DUC, is another resource for students at the Sam Fox School. The Career Center hosts an all-campus career fair in the fall and spring, in addition to skill-building workshops and other, ongoing programs. You can see their schedule online through the Career Center main website.

ARCHITECTURE CAREER FAIR

In addition to the University-wide Career Fair, Sam Fox School of Design & Visual Arts hosts an internship and job fair specifically geared toward the fields of architecture and design. At this annual event, students and recent alumni have the opportunity to meet with top firms, as well as professional and trade organizations, network with employers and faculty, and have their portfolios reviewed by professionals in the field. In recent years, representatives from the firms HKS, Populous, Cannon Design, SOM, Ewing Cole, and HOK have attended the fair. Visit the Career Center main website for more information.

ROAD SHOW

Road Shows are your opportunity to meet with organizations across the country. The trip focuses on a city and an industry and is open to all Washington University students. During the trip, you will have the opportunity to meet WU alumni working and living in the city, as well as tour and meet with select organizations. The next Architecture Road Show will take place in San Francisco over Winter Break and New York over Spring Break. More details will be published on the firms that we will visit as the dates get closer. Visit the Career Center main website for more information.
